On a sunny Saturday, I walked my dog, Bryn, to the park. First, I threw a red frisbee. He ran really fast and caught it in his mouth. Next, he ran back to me and chased it again. Last, he wanted a treat. He sat down and said, "Woof!" We had fun! I hope we can do it again soon!

At the Park

Title

On a Sunny Saturday in March, I walked my dog, Bryn, to the park. His tail wagged left and right when he saw the large patch of green grass.

First, I threw a red frisbee past the tall tree. Bryn ran fast and caught it in his mouth. He looked like a football player scoring a touchdown.

Next, he ran to me and dropped the frisbee beside my feet. I threw it as far as I could. The frisbee soared into the air and landed in the tree. A cat ran up the tree crying, "MEOWWW!" Bryn barked

back, "Woof!"

Last, the cat knocked down
the frisbee and ran away as fast as lightning! Bryn scooped the frisbee up with his mouth.
He sat down and said, "Woof!"
He wanted a treat!

We always have fun at the park, but this day was an adventure. I can't wait to go back again soon!
